THAI TEMPLE ETIQUETTE: A VISITOR'S GUIDE

When visiting Thai temples, it is essential to dress modestly and show utmost respect for the sacred environment. Follow these guidelines strictly:

DRESS RESPECTFULLY:

Ensure that your shoulders and knees are covered.
Do not wear tight or see-through clothing.

REMOVE YOUR SHOES:

Always take off your shoes before entering temple buildings.

TAKE OFF HATS AND SUNGLASSES:

Remove these items to demonstrate your respect while inside the temple.

BE MINDFUL OF YOUR LANGUAGE:

Speak softly and keep your phone on silent.

AVOID POINTING YOUR FEET:

Never point your feet at Buddha images or monks,
as this is considered disrespectful.

STEP OVER THE THRESHOLD:

When entering a building, always step over the threshold instead of stepping on it.

AVOID PUBLIC DISPLAYS OF AFFECTION:

This behavior is not appropriate in a temple setting.
